

Abstract

Credit Rating Agencies have gained importance in India as SEBI and RBI have incorporated ratings into various regulations. Many rating agencies in India are promoted by financial institutions and questions have been raised on reliability of ratings. This work studies the information content in rating agencies' actions like downgrades, upgrades, credit watch, and affirmations using event study methodology.